Recruitment

At Fearless we strongly believe that the strength of the organization lies in our human capital. Hence, there is a stringent hiring criteria in place aimed at selecting the best possible personnel. Keeping in view the sensitivity and specialized nature of the job we have a distinct preference for personnel with an Armed Forces background. This preference, however, does not deter us from recruiting civilians with suitable aptitude and commitment. Fearless being an equal opportunity employer is proud to pioneer the induction of women on its security workforce.

To be eligible for recruitment all individuals must be medical category A and free from chronic communicable diseases. Certification from any of our panel medics is mandatory.

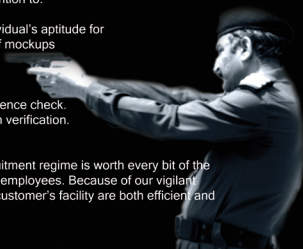

After assessing suitability through basic numeracy and literacy tests, individuals are put through a psychological assessment designed at identifying extreme biases vis a vis current security threats. Emotional stability, sociability and responsibility factors of the personality profile are also paid particular attention to.

In phase II of the recruitment process the individual's aptitude for security duties is assessed through a series of mockups followed by physical endurance test.

The recruitment process culminates with:

- 10 Years employment history/character reference check.
- Concerned police station and Special Branch verification.
- CNIC verification from NADRA

We at Fearless believe that the stringent recruitment regime is worth every bit of the effort, as it ensures honest, capable and loyal employees. Because of our vigilant standards the personnel that we place at the customer's facility are both efficient and effective.

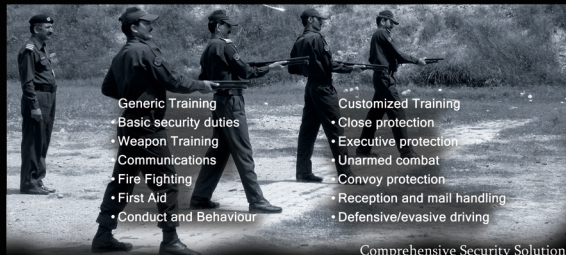

Compensation & Benefits

With an aim to retain the best personnel available in the industry, we have implemented an aggressive compensation policy at Fearless. Employees are eligible for pension after seven years of service. Free medical facility is provided to all guards employed by the company. Moreover guards are insured against any accident or casualty. Accommodation, subsidized messing and free transportation is provided to all the guards working for us. We value performance, education and personal integrity while considering promotions and salary increments.

Training

Comprehensive and realistic training of individuals for various security cadres forms the cornerstone of our operations. Being both interactive and 'hands on' it is being imparted in line with the latest notification issued by the Government of Pakistan. Prepared by industry experts, our syllabi aims at maintaining the highest standards of quality for the various services being offered. Firing practices are regularly carried out at Police Lines firing range, Islamabad. Security knowledge is regularly brushed up through a series of refresher courses at our own training camp every quarter.

SPECIALIZED SECURITY SERVICES

Executive Protection

A sound executive protection program is critical within today's business and economic environment. Targeted violence, kidnapping for ransom and random criminal acts are more commonplace than ever; Officer in charge of the Executive Security must have effective systems to counter these risks.

Fearless offers protective services to executives, their homes and families. We design and coordinate security programs for executives in the workplace, while in transit, when traveling, and at their residences. We can also deploy teams to cover daily routines or to threatening situations and special events—anywhere in the country.

Close Protection

The main principal emphasis of Close Protection is a professional low profile demeanor that attracts minimum attention to the principal and the team in a "low and medium" threat environment. It provides armed protection to the principal against any harm whether intentional or un-intentional. Medical assistance is also provided as required. Our team of anti-terrorist trained ex-Special Services Group (SSG) officers and other ranks are trained to perform a variety of close protection roles, either as part of a team or individually.

Risk Assessment Service

The security experts in Fearless Risk Assessment Division conduct a comprehensive review of a facility's physical characteristics and its security requirements. This experienced team prepares a detailed facility survey document for our clients encompassing:

- Evaluation of existing security arrangements
- Identification of security risks
- Identification of management responsibilities
- Specific recommendations for practical, cost-efficient changes

Fearless provides an unbiased assessment of available security hardware and software systems, as we can advise on every type of systems. We render advice on all types of systems.

Following a survey, Fearless specialists prepare a detailed, customized manual for a company's security organization, complete with methods, standards and procedures. This security manual addresses existing security problems, offering suggestions for workable and cost-effective procedures. It also serves as a planning guide for future enhancements in the security program, ensuring effective processes that are consistent within a given company's unique needs.

ADVANCED SECURITY SOLUTIONS

Fearless provides innovative, technology-based solutions for security problems in residences, commercial areas and government buildings. Our cutting edge technology oriented security solutions are easy to deploy, operate and maintain, as well as cost effective. Our security technicians have an edge with verified solutions that include automated proactive surveillance, monitoring and tracking with alert and reactive capabilities.

Access Control Systems

A reliable Access Control System is a common requirement for today's enterprise. We have solutions ranging from card-based access to biometric authentication. Our solutions can be deployed for various applications including, but not limited to, parking systems, secure access corridors, building access control, monitoring and tracking systems.

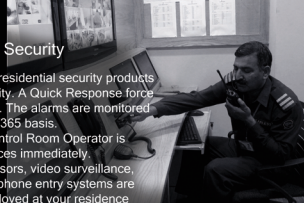

Monitoring and Surveillance Systems

We proudly offer surveillance solutions that have undergone deployment over a citywide scale. The applications are designed for situations that require pinpoint accuracy and for that we rely on biometric identification products that range anywhere from a simple fingerprint impression to a complex 3D facial recognition system. For round the clock surveillance night vision cameras are preferential.

Integrated Residential Security

Fearless provides integrated residential security products designed beyond basic security. A Quick Response force backs up the Alarms systems. The alarms are monitored in our Control Room on 24/7/365 basis. In case of an incident, the Control Room Operator is able mobilize the right resources immediately. Alarms, panic buttons, IR sensors, video surveillance, smoke detectors, video door phone entry systems are some of the products are deployed at your residence to provide you absolute security.

High-level Detection and Scanning Systems

Fearless offers detection and scanning systems that can help detect Improvised Explosive Devices (IED). Our solutions are easy to deploy and mainly comprise of technologies that present entities under surveillance, such as vehicle, carry cases, personnel etc, in the form of an x-ray extract. This enables the system to immediately recognize the scale of threat and execute the already programmed counter measures which may range anywhere from a simple SMS alert to complex automated reactive protocols.
